

STEPH ON COOKING

- Steph, welcome to Mansion Ingles. How long have you been living in Spain?
- We've been living here just over five years now.
- And where did you live before?
- We lived right in the centre of London.
- Uh ha, and can you tell us what _____ there are between Spanish cooking and English cooking?
- Well, personally for me I find Spanish cooking is much _____. Their ingredients are much _____. They have more flavour, and they use a lot of olive oil, so this is very healthy.
- I see, and do you think that your cooking has become more Spanish since you moved here?
- Yes, because obviously you're used to the ingredients that are available in the supermarkets and also the markets, and it's _____ and has a lot of flavour.
- What's your favourite Spanish dish, Steph?
- Ooo, I would say paella because that is very healthy, and I _____ love the tortilla.
- Do you prefer cooking erm.. at home, or eating out in restaurants?
- Well, I love cooking, but I must be honest and say that when you eat out in restaurants there's obviously not much work there.
- So no washing up, Stephanie
- Exactly!
- Okay, and would you like to open your own restaurant one day?
- I think now I'm too _____, but it would have been very nice perhaps many years ago.

From: www.mansioningles.com

1. Where did Steph live before she came to Spain?
2. Why does she think that Spanish cooking is better than English cooking?
3. Why has Steph's cooking become more Spanish since she moved to Spain?
4. Does Steph prefer eating out in restaurants or cooking at home?. Why?
5. Why doesn't Steph want to open her own restaurant?